"Marty," still a puppy, 21 months old, has won numerous awards already, eight points, including one major. The owners/trainers are Amanda and Craig Tinsen of Rosell Divine Acres; breeders are Janell Heiman and Carolyn McNamara. He was among the many pups who competed at the 32nd annual Illini Great Dane Club's annual show at the Roma Sports Center.

Who's the Good Pups? Great Danes!

By Karen Haave

Finding yourself nose-to-nose with a Great Dane can be a bit disconcerting.

No, not the tall, handsome ones like actor Viggo Mortensen, or the gifted, prolific writer Hans Christian Anderson.

I'm talking about the four-legged canine variety.

The first thing you notice is that they are big.

Not just big, like a German Shepherd or Pitbull. But big, like weighing 140 to 175 pounds, with a height of 28 to 32 inches at the shoulder.

To have one gently place his face on your chest, all flirty and friendly, while you stand there billing and cooing about how wonderful he is, is an experience like no other. Especially if you have never actually stood next to a Great Dane before.

Such was that moment for me -- at 5 foot, 5 -- covering the Illini Great Dane Club's annual show and competition in Frankfort.

As a reporter marking 52 years in the industry, I had never written about a dog show before, with the exception of Crete's cute and entertaining Reindog Contest at Christmastime. And I don't think that counts.

Nevertheless, when my editor, Nick Reiher, asked me to go, I thought it sounded like fun, so I accepted the assignment.

More than just fun, it turned out to be informative, because there is so much I never knew about Great Danes.

For starters, there was their size, and how surprisingly sweet they are. They are loving, courageous and naturally protective of their humans, but not considered aggressive.

Unlike other canines, they do not respond well to harsh discipline. Gentle encouragement, with treats at the end, gets the job done, according to the trainers I met at the Roma Sports Center, where the show took place recently.

They are still considered puppies until age 3, even though they probably have the appetite of teenagers.

They are quiet and well-behaved -- no growling or non-stop barking from them, at least not those at the show.

And last, but not least, their owners are extremely proud of them, especially when they take home a ribbon.

OUTSTANDING IN THEIR FIELD

By John Kiefner

Since the world did not end with the eclipse as some prophesized, it appears I will have to write another article and farm another season.

I was front and center for the eclipse in southern Indiana. Being a "self-described weather geek," I felt I should experience this event since I could reasonably expect I may die before the next time it came close to the Midwest. Having worked in a field spraying in 2017 during the 90 percent totality event, this gave me good reference to how much difference that last 5-10 percent of the sun blockage is.

As I watched the moon first clip the edge of the sun to about 50-60 coverage, not much was different. Like 2017, you wouldn't even know anything was going on. By 90 percent coverage, you could feel how cool it was getting. As 95 percent coverage quickly became totality, it was like the evening sunset was sped up from 2 hours to only 2 minutes. The frogs started singing.

I found it interesting that it was dark immediately around me, but the horizon on 360 degrees had an orange glow as if the sun was rising in all directions.

It did not last long since a cloud blocked the last 30-40 seconds of the total eclipse. Witnessing totality did emphasize how strong the sun really is. I listened to Tom Skilling do an interview on the radio during my trip south. He stated that even 90 percent coverage of the sun still allows about 90 of normal daylight. My viewing confirmed this: The sun is quite the hard worker, even when only giving 10 percent effort. Can you say the same?

My eclipse viewing party was part of an overall trip to Dalton, Georgia, to pick up some special-order farm supplies that would have incurred a $1,600 shipping charge. I traveled through Tennessee for the first time in 40 years. The scenery is beautiful, I can see that as a bonus for those who have fled Illinois for Tennessee.

I witnessed first-hand how congested all the highways were. The interstates were full of trucks, just like Will County. I have been informed that the population has grown so fast the traffic infrastructure has not kept up and that home prices have skyrocketed.

Two nights were spent in Chattanooga before loading the truck in Georgia and coming home. The Aquarium along the Tennessee River was very good. Their historic downtown has much to offer. The first night, it was drizzling, and we thought it was a ghost town; we were the only pedestrians other than the 2-3 homeless that we encountered each block.

The next day, we went to the river walk earlier and in sunny weather, and the downtown was alive with people. The difference was night and day, just like 90 percent eclipse to totality.

A trip to Lookout Mountain and the historic battlefield was very diminished by thick fog. I didn't think I would like Rock City, the pea soup fog added a unique aura to the visit, even though we had no chance to see 6 states from the viewing area. I did not get to see Ruby Falls or ride the incline railway. Nor did I see any runaway trucks while descending the Monteaagle plateau on I-24.

Now a revisit to my last article and tie-in to Earth Day: Now that my hometown of Manhattan can boast that it has a McDonald's restaurant, plastic debris is not my only nemesis while doing field work this spring. I now notice many bags of refuse thrown out in the ditches and fields with the Golden Arches on the paper bag. The litterbugs used to buy their fast food in New Lenox and threw the garbage out before Manhattan.

As Andy stated on my Facebook page post about my dislike about the interstate congestion in Tennessee, Manhattan and Tennessee have the same dilemma: "Call something paradise; kiss it goodbye."

KEEP 'EM COMING!

We have gone through the dozens of old photos you have shared with us, and we thank you. Some were just too damaged to reproduce. This has been a very popular feature for several years, and we'd like to continue it with a new crop of photos.

So, please check to see what you can share. Meanwhile, we'll run some of the more popular ones again.

You can bring your photos to the office Tuesdays and Thursdays between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet, and we'll scan them for you. Or if you can scan them at home, please send them in jpeg format with all the info you have to debbie@willcfc.com, or nick.reiher@gmail.com. Questions? Call us at 815-690-1653.

Community Events

Manteno Vet Home Volunteer Fair

As part of National Volunteer Week, The Illinois Veterans' Home at Manteno invites veteran service providers, community organizations and individuals to a volunteer fair to learn more about volunteer opportunities and enjoy food from local food trucks. The fair, which will include volunteer staff and volunteers to share their experiences and the needs of the home, will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday, April 26 at the veteran's home, 1 Veterans Drive, Manteno, Veterans Hall. Since COVID-19, the Veterans' Homes across the state have lost many volunteers. Across the nation, the number of volunteers dropped seven percent, from 30 to 23 percent, between 2019-2021. The homes, because of COVID-19 and mandated restrictions, experienced an even greater decline in volunteerism. Building back IDVA's volunteer base is critical to providing important services and opportunities for residents in its care.

Spring Craft and Vendor Fair

A Spring Craft and Vendor Fair will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, April 27, at Westminster Presbyterian Church, corner of Clara & Larkin, Joliet. Light refreshments will be served. 8' tables available at $30 per table. Payments accepted: cash or check (non-refundable). Make checks out to the church. For information, call the church office (815-725-6687) or (815-210-8117). Email: office@westpresjoliet.org

Bob Briscoe, 61, Mazon

Robert "Bob" Briscoe passed away at the age of 61 years old on Monday, April 15, at his home in Mazon.

He was born in Morris on January 21, 1963, to the late Nicholas and Edna (Lampman) Briscoe. Raised in Minooka, he attended Channahon and Minooka grade schools, graduating with the class of 1981 from Minooka Community High School.

On August 3, 1985, Bob married Ruth Errthum in Manhattan, Illinois. In addition to his loving wife of 38 years, he is also survived by his children, Ellen (Peter) Thies, Nicholas (fiance Alyssa) Briscoe, and Sarah Briscoe; one granddaughter, Nora Thies; siblings, Gene Briscoe, Ann Chandler, Pat (Bob) Harvey, Donna Briscoe, Pam (Perry) Helton, Mike (Linda) Briscoe, Terry (Brenda) Briscoe; sister-in-law, Tammy (Landon) Briscoe-Smith; brother-in-law, Don Kooyenga as well as numerous nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews.

Bob is preceded in death by his parents; brother, John Briscoe; sisters, Mary Briscoe and Donna Kooyenga; sister-in-law, Judy Briscoe.

Bob retired in 2021 as President of Prairie Creek Grain Co., Inc. which he founded in 2005 and grew into an international shipping company of grain and feed with multiple locations. He previously owned and operated Agri-Tile Systems, Inc. for 20 years. Although long hours were no stranger to Bob, he never missed an opportunity to clock out when he knew his kids were coming home. A tip from Ruth was all it took, as family meant everything, and he was extremely proud of his family.

Some of Bob's interests included boating on the lake and riding his bike. Recently, he was able to spend time with his new granddaughter, Nora, who will know all about her grandpa in these coming years. The Briscoe family will always remember Bob's thoughtful caregivers, Stacy Thrush and Jen Bissey. Also, the family would like to say thank you to Gordon and Chris Gantzert, who were so thoughtful and wonderfully caring.

Funeral services were held on Monday, April 22, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Minooka, with interment following in the church cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorials in his name can be made to the Shriners Children's Hospital or the charity of your choice.

Fred C Dames Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. For information, please call (815) 942-5040 or visit his Memorial Tribute at www.fredcdames.com where you can share a favorite memory <https://fredcdames.com/files/arrangement/widgets/tribute2/themes/images/farm2-banner.jpg> or leave a condolence.

The I&M Opens: A grand celebration run aground

By Sandy Vasko

We are in the final week of celebrating the 175th anniversary of the opening of the Illinois and Michigan Canal. However, looking back at that opening, we find that things were not exactly perfect engineering-wise.

From day one, there was a lack of water, and many times, canal boats went aground. It was a while before that problem was fixed. Still, certainly a cause for celebration. That is our story for today.

The original I & M Canal had been built on the cheap. Instead of digging it deep enough for Lake Michigan water to naturally run into it, it was cut shallow and required a steam engine on the shores of Lake Michigan to pump water into it, and a lock and dam to be sure the I & M did not run backwards into the lake.

In 1870, the money was found to deepen the canal from Bridgeport on the shores of Lake Michigan, to Lockport. When the work was completed, a grand celebration and excursion was gotten up. The auspicious day was documented by the Joliet Signal on August 1, 1871:

"For weeks the Board of Public Works of the vast city of Chicago, assisted by the canal authorities, had been making preparations to celebrate, in an appropriate manner, the completion of the deep cut in the canal and the union of the waters of Lake Michigan with those of the Illinois River. Last Tuesday was the day set apart for the grand demonstration. It was to consist of an excursion on the canal to Lockport, where the speeches were to be made and congratulations exchanged.

"Four large canal boats were chartered for the occasion and were soon crowded with about 1,600 persons, including millionaires and solid men from Chicago, the Board of Public Works, the canal commissioners, Gov. Palmer, Gen. Sheridan, members of Congress and ex-members of Congress, members of the State Legislature, Ward politicians and a goodly number of the roughs and bummers of that famous city. The boats were abundantly supplied with the solids and liquids for the comforting of the inner man. At 9 a.m., the fleet set sail, and a happy time was there on board the crafts for the next 8 hours.

"There was so much drinking and carousing on the boats, that but slow progress could be made, and it was about 5 o'clock p.m. when the happy crowd reached Lemont. A reconnaissance then took place amongst the sober ones, and it was decided that Lockport could not be reached in time for the return six o'clock train, so a halt was sounded and the excursion came to an end; and the exhilarated parties took literal possession of Lemont until the arrival of the train at half past six, when they returned, drunker, if not wiser, than when they embarked in the morning.

"In the meantime, the citizens of our neighboring city of Lockport had been making grand and extensive preparations for the reception of their distinguished visitors. When we arrived there, at about 4 p.m., the streets were filled with people, and flags were flung from all the notable buildings in the place. Everything here marks of an old fashioned Fourth of July celebration. The canal office was the principal point of attraction, where were assembled the celebrities of the city, and on the west side of which were long ranges of tables spread with pure white linen and loaded with luxuries and substantial to feed a thousand hungry people.

"After waiting until nearly 6 o'clock, the news arrived that the Chicago excursion had culminated at Lemont. The disappointment manifested on all sides was great, but about this time his Excellency, Gov. Palmer, Gen. Sheridan, Mayor Mason, Hon. N.B. Judd, Hon. S. S. Hayes, and a half dozen of other celebrities, who had left the excursionists for the purpose, arrived in a little steamer, and it was determined to 'go on with the show.'

"Gov. Palmer was led to a platform in front of the canal office, and introduced to the crowd, but was evidently too much affected by the excursion to make much of a speech. He was full to the brim. He however managed to say many clever and funny things.

"Gen. Sheridan was then introduced, who 'let the cat out of the bag.' He said he had 'started from Chicago on a canal boat on which an immense quantity of beer, which the excursionists were making great efforts to consume, in which effort he co-operated, liberally and to the best of his ability. When about half way to Lockport, they were overtaken by the Governor's boat, and found that as the Governor came from that part of the country where beer is not known, and where water was scarce, the nature of the supplies changed (to whiskey), but nevertheless, he had co-operated with the occupants of the Governor's boat the balance of the way to Lockport, and they would have to excuse him from making a speech.

"At the conclusion of the speechifying, the multitude present were politely invited to partake of the collation that had been prepared for the 'big bugs' of Chicago; and, in company with a large number of our Joliet friends, we accepted the invitation, and had the pleasure of 'co-operating' in that branch of the exercises, and did ample justice to the good things spread before us so profusely."

And so, that grand celebration went astray, all because of the "wants of the inner man."

GARDENER 2 GARDENER

By Nancy Kuhajda

The Lawn Ranger Returns ... but timing is everything

Yesterday, when planting some onion sets with 40 K-2 students, several of them were more interested in picking dandelions than the task at hand. But that was OK. Seeing today's youth engaging in any nature activity is positive in my book. I am sure most of you reading this also picked dandelions when you were a small fry.

The part I am sure most of you didn't need to do was ask an adult what they were. But that is OK, too. You can be 3, 33 or 103, and I am happy to answer any gardening question about anything. But then the other question came. "Miss Nancy, isn't this the wish plant?" I said, of course. When the flower turns to a white puffball, you blow it, and the wishes of a hundred dandelion seeds comes true!

But do you need to care about those dandelions, creeping Charlie, violets, clover popping up in your lawn? Let me tell you, the times, they are a changin', my friend. The pristine lawn ranger's goal of the perfect monoculture of Kentucky bluegrass blades, all standing at uninterrupted attention, isn't the goal of many homeowners today.

If the above "perfect lawn" description is your goal, that is fine, too. I can give you every solution, from the organic one -- which in the 1960s was many of our main jobs -- an 8-year-old equipped with a bushel basket and their trusty dandelion picker. Or if you are more of a better living through chemical science, I can give you those recommendations, too.

But it will always be, first identify the problem. The 16-year-old "horticulturist" at the big box store, may give you a weed killer for a bug problem. Not their fault though, because yesterday they were a plumbing specialist, and this afternoon, they will be an expert in carpet installation.

While I am mentioning going to the store, you should also not take it as a signal to apply what you buy today, just because it is on sale. So many homeowners reach out to me after they have applied their grub control, only to learn that the best time of application here in Will County, depending on the product, is the week of July 4th; Not April 24th. You apply season-long grub killer now, and by late July when the grubs emerge, that chemical is but a memory. It has been diluted away by the microbes in the soil and the rains we have had since you applied it back in April.

But who could blame a homeowner? The grub killer was on sale this week, and when you got to the store, a 3-foot cardboard grub was hanging from the ceiling. So, what should you do?

Google or reach out to us, University of Illinois Extension. I am only an email or phone call away. kuhajda@illinois.edu 815 727 9296.

With us, you get research-based information with a wide range of practical solutions (we call it Integrated Pest Management or IPM). And most importantly, the right timing to get the best results.

So back to the idea of what your personal ideal lawn should look like. There has been a strong movement to support pollinators, and somewhat away from the idea that the only bad weed is a dead one. Actually, who determines that plants are "bad" anyway? We do.

So, in support of pollinators, and the use of "think first, spray later, or maybe never," the "bee lawn" idea was born. Instead of looking at the yellow pompom of dandelion flowers as enemies, think of them as restaurants; this goes for all the weeds that bloom in the spring. These may be some of the only flowers available for our pollinators (besides tree flowers). Particularly in this year of early, early warm weather. The bees and other pollinators are out, and need a great deal of energy, which is your all-you-can eat, weed buffet. I also prefer to call it not a weedy lawn, but a "perennial floral groundcover." The choice is yours.

If you do prefer to treat for weeds, be sure you are using the right stuff and at the right time. The label is not only the law, but it provides all the information you need. No company wants you to use their product and get the least success.

Crabgrass preventer doesn't work on quackgrass or creeping bentgrass. And do you really have crabgrass anyway? If you see patches of wide bladed grasses right now, guess what? It isn't crabgrass. Crabgrass doesn't germinate until the soil temps are above 55 degrees for 10 days straight. We aren't even there yet.

If you have these patches, it is most likely quackgrass. I often wonder why people get so obsessed with wiping out the flowering weeds, when the real menace to a great lawn that can slowly become your lawn, if not controlled, is quackgrass.

And the grassy weeds do not have a weed and feed type control where you can broadcast a granular across the whole lawn, and it just kills the undesirable grassy weeds. There are a few products out there that can help with early starts of small quack and creeping bent. But for big patches, it is dig out or a total herbicide (like RoundUp or KleenUp -- products containing the active ingredient glyphosate) that kills anything green it is sprayed on -- with the beauty that it kills to the root.

The three most important things when dealing with lawn issues are: proper identification of the issue, deciding whether it is a problem at all, and which option (and when) is the best way to find optimum success.

Illinois Extension has a great website dedicated to everything lawn at <http://extension.uiuc.edu/lawns> And as always if you do not use a computer, just contact me at 815 727 9296 and we can send you any handout you need.

Show Chairman Karen Mayfield-Jones said 50 Great Danes from across the country were entered in this year's show.

"Many dogs return over the years and often compete in different categories. It is incredibly rewarding to see older dogs still able to compete in our Veteran Class," she said.

The requirements to participate in the show are strict.

"Every dog must be recognized and registered as a Great Dane by the AKC," she explained, "not spayed or neutered unless in our Competitive Veterans class, have no disqualifying faults (not under minimum height, no split nose or docked tail, and must be one of the AKC recognized colors), and be of sound health and up-to-date on vaccinations. For the Midwest Derby puppy match, the dog must be between 3 months and 18 months. To compete in the specialties, the dog must be 6 months or older.

The judges look for which dog best meets the Official Standard of the Great Dane as approved by the Great Dane Club of America and the American Kennel Club.

"(It is) unknown as to which dogs may have been rescued and are entered in our show," Mayfield-Jones said. "Rescued dogs that meet our entry requirements may compete. Our club supports rescue activities and education, and more is available on our website: <https://www.illinigreatdaneclub.com/Rescue.html>.

"The best part of the event is the satisfaction of working with others that care deeply about the interests of Great Danes in a way that promotes the breed.

"Our puppy we whelped in July is entered in the show. It is wonderful to see the dogs benefit from the socialization and confidence they gain both in and out of the conformation ring at our show.

"They are large, loveable dogs that are remarkably beautiful for their elegance, balance, and power thanks to generations of refinement. For some people, they are the ultimate canine companion. Unlike other breeds, they can't hide behind a long coat or flashy attitude. Great Danes are honest and true."

Mayfield-Jones said it was unknown if any of the entrants were from the local area, but many did come from across the Midwest, and some from Wisconsin and Indiana.

"The Illini Great Dane Club has a long history in Frankfort and Will County," she noted. "2024 marks the 32nd annual show of the Illini Great Dane Club and the third show at the Roma Sports Center.

"Our club was originally called the Will County Great Dane Club, and our show was held at the Hallmark Sports Center in Frankfort, IL from 2005-2019. Following the pandemic, the site location was changed to the Roma Sports Center in Frankfort.

"Our club is a non-profit one dedicated to the advancement of the Great Dane breed," she pointed out. "These shows give the public the opportunity to see the dogs and learn about the breed from actual owners. We meet each month, and anyone wanting information regarding membership should contact our Membership Chair, Linda Clesi: linda.clesi@gmail.com."

Karen Haave is a freelance reporter.

"Gracie" was a winner in the first Saturday show Bitch category. Owner is Wendy Whitlock of Iona, IL.

"Simon" is just a puppy, 11 months old won Best of Opposite in Sweepstakes. Owner is Laurie Lutton of Fort Wayne.

Notice to Heirs

Notice is given to UNKNOWN HEIRS, who are an heir in the above proceeding to probate an intestate estate, and whose name or address is not stated in the petition for letters of administration, that an order was entered by the court on April 5, 2024, appointing a representative of the decedent's estate-intestate.

Rights of Interested Persons During Independent Administration; Form of Petition to Terminate Administration

The April 5, 2024 court order granted independent administration of decedent's estate. This means that the executor or administrator will not have to obtain court orders or file estate documents in court during probate. The estate will be administered without court supervision, unless an interested person asks the court to become involved.

Under section 28-4 of the Probate Act of 1975 (755 ILCS 5/28-4) any interested person may terminate independent administration at any time by mailing or delivering a petition to terminate to the clerk of the court. E-filing is now mandatory for documents in civil cases with limited exemptions. To e-file, you must first create an account with an e-filing service provider. Visit <http://efile.illinoiscourts.gov/service-providers.htm> to learn more and to select a service provider. If you need additional help or have trouble e-filing, visit <http://www.illinoiscourts.gov/FAQ/gethelp.asp>, or talk with your local circuit clerk's office.

However, if there is a will which directs independent administration, independent administration will be terminated only if the court finds there is good cause to require supervised administration, and if the petitioner is a creditor or nonresiduary legatee, independent administration will be terminated only if the court finds that termination is necessary to protect the petitioner's interest.

A petition in substantially the following form may be used to terminate independent administration:

In the Circuit Court of the 12th Judicial Circuit,
 Will County, Illinois

In re Estate of _____, Deceased No. _____

Petition to Terminate Independent Administration

_____, on oath states:

On _____, 20____, an order was entered granting independent administration to _____ as independent _____ (executor) (administrator)

I am an interested person in this estate as _____ (heir) (nonresiduary legatee) (residuary legatee) (creditor) (representative)

*3. The will _____ direct independent administration. (does) (does not)

I request that independent administration be terminated.

(Signature of petitioner)

Signed and sworn to before me _____, 20____

Notary Public

*Strike if no will.

In addition to the right to terminate independent administration, any interested person may petition the court to hold a hearing and resolve any particular question that may arise during independent administration, even though supervised administration has not been requested (755 ILCS 5/28-5). The independent representative must mail a copy of the estate inventory and final account to each interested person and must send notice to or obtain the approval of each interested person before the estate can be closed (755 ILCS 5/28-6, 28-11). Any interested person has the right to question or object to any item included in or omitted from an inventory or account or to insist on a full court accounting of all receipts and disbursements with prior notice, as required in supervised administration (755 ILCS 5/28-11).

MANY HANDS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Fifty-eight students from the Lincoln Way High School Ag program and Peotone FFA teamed up to prepare nearly 14,000 meals while volunteering for two hours April 5 at the Northern Illinois Food Bank's My Pantry Express. People fill out orders, and the volunteers pack them up for taking home. After some training, the students were separated into three groups: sorting, bagging, double-checking. The program was provided by the Will County Farm Bureau Young Farmers Committee with help from Heritage Farm Service.

FOREST PRESERVE DISTRICT WILL COUNTY

Here are the Forest Preserve District of Will County programs for the week of April 29. Online registration is available on the Event Calendar at ReconnectWithNature.org.

Migration Celebration at Four Rivers: 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays; noon-4 p.m. Sundays, May 1-31, Four Rivers Environmental Education Center, Channahon. Enjoy this monthlong celebration of migratory birds. Festivities will include ongoing crafts, family-friendly activities and hands-on exploration of feathers, beaks and more. Each week, a new station will be ready for visitors to discover what makes migratory birds so exceptional. Migration Celebration is supported by funding from Alliance Pipeline, a joint venture of Enbridge and Pembina, and through the assistance of The Nature Foundation of Will County. All programs will be self-guided. Free, all ages.

Where Feathers Meet the Flash Photo Contest: 8 a.m.-sunset, May 1-31, McKinley Woods, Channahon. Take part in the inaugural Four Rivers bird photography competition. Submit your picture of a migratory birds at McKinley Woods for a chance to win a gift certificate to the Cornell Lab Bird Academy and new bird-feeding supplies from Wild Birds Unlimited of Joliet. There will be adult (18 and older) and youth (17 and younger) categories. Visit Four Rivers Environmental Education Center to check out recent sightings and learn where you'll have the best chance to find the bird you're looking for. Register your bird photo by scanning the QR code at the photo submission stations along the trails and in the visitor center. Contest rules are on the submission form. Free, all ages.

Nature's Palette Color Discovery: 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays; noon-4 p.m. Sundays, May 1-31, Plum Creek Nature Center, Crete Township. For this self-guided activity, get close to nature to notice all the color differences that add beautiful details to our world. Drop in during open hours to pick up a palette of nature shades to see how many you can match to objects outside. Free, all ages.

Lake Renwick Migratory Bird Viewing: 8 a.m.-noon, Saturdays in May and June starting May 4, at Lake Renwick Heron Rookery Nature Preserve, Plainfield. See the dazzling display of nesting herons, egrets and cormorants and maybe even a bald eagle. The preserve has controlled access during nesting season to minimize disturbances to nests. The only way to view the birds at this time of year is to attend a viewing program. Volunteers and staff will be at the viewing platform and visitor center to answer questions. Free, all ages.

Birds and Blooms: 9-10:30 a.m. Saturday, May 4, McKinley Woods - Frederick's Grove. Walk with a naturalist to spot brightly colored warblers in the trees above and vibrant wildflower on the forest floor. Free, ages 10 or older. Register by May 3.

Meet a Beekeeper: 12:30-2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 5, Plum Creek Nature Center. Meet Mike Rusnak, a local beekeeper with 15 years of experience, to discuss the art of beekeeping. Pick up specific beekeeping tips or simply learn more about the world of bees. Free, all ages.
